

Saint Theresa Benedicta of the Cross
Edith Stein

Exult you just, in the Lord,
praise from the upright
is fitting.

Give thanks to the Lord
on the harp;
with the ten-stringed lyre
chant his praises.

Sing to him a new song;
pluck the strings skillfully,
with shouts of gladness...

...the plan of the Lord
stands forever;

the design of his heart,
through all generations.

Happy the nation
whose God is the Lord,
the people he has chosen for his own inheritance...

Our soul waits for the Lord,
who is our help and our shield,
For in him our hearts rejoice;
in his holy name we trust.
May your kindness, O Lord, be upon us who have put our hope in you.

Psalm33

The Faith, Hope and Love of the Woman

To serve God perfectly, it is not sufficient only to believe in him. Of course, we must believe all the truths which the Church teaches us, and without faith all our works are without merit in the sight of God. Faith is absolutely necessary for us that we may be saved. At the same time this precious faith, which reveals to us beforehand the beauties of heaven, will one day leave us, and be transformed into knowledge, because in the next life there will be no more mysteries.

Hope, which is a gift of heaven, is necessary for us to have upright and pure motives, to please God in all our actions, to gain heaven, and avoid hell. But charity urges us on to love God because he is infinitely good, infinitely amiable, and deserves to be loved.

But, you will ask, how can we perceive whether we have this beautiful virtue so agreeable to God, which urges us to love God, not from fear of the punishments of hell, or the hope of heaven, but solely on account of his infinite perfections? It is charity which will form our whole happiness, for the bliss of the blessed consists in love. Let us, therefore, see my dear friends, whether we have this beautiful virtue, which is capable of rendering us so happy, and if we should be so unfortunate as not to possess it, let us seek to acquire it with all our strength.

Magnificat, August 2010
~ Saint John Mary Vianney

A Catechism on Prayer

The noble task of man, to pray and to love

Consider, children, a Christian's treasure is not on earth, it is in heaven. Well then, our thoughts should turn to where our treasure is.

Man has a noble task: that of prayer and love. To pray and to love, that is the happiness of man on earth.

Prayer is nothing else than union with God. When the heart is pure and united with God it is consoled and filled with sweetness; it is dazzled by a marvelous light. In this intimate union God and the soul are like two pieces of wax molded into one; they cannot any more be separated. It is a very wonderful thing, this union of God with his insignificant creature, a happiness passing all understanding.

We had deserved to be left incapable of praying; but God in his goodness has permitted us to speak to him. Our prayer is an incense that is delightful to God.

My children, your hearts are small, but prayer enlarges them and renders them capable of loving God. Prayer is a foretaste of heaven, an overflowing of heaven. It never leaves us without sweetness; it is like honey, it descends into the soul and sweetens everything. In a prayer well made, troubles vanish like snow under the rays of the sun.

Prayer makes time seem to pass quickly, and so pleasantly that one fails to notice how long it is. When I was parish priest of Bresse, once almost all my colleagues were ill, and as I made long journeys I used to pray to God, and, I assure you, the time did not seem long to me. There are those who lose themselves in prayer, like a fish in water, because they are absorbed in God. There is no division in their hearts. How I love those noble souls! Saint Francis of Assisi and Saint Colette saw our Lord and spoke to him as we speak to one another.

As for ourselves, how often do we come to church without thinking what we are going to do or for what we are going to ask.

And yet, when we go to call upon someone, we have no difficulty in remembering why it was we came. Some appear as if they were about to say to God: 'I am just going to say a couple of words, so I can get away quickly.' I often think that when we come to adore our Lord we should get all we ask if we asked for it with a lively faith and a pure heart

Pro-Life Corner

About a year ago Pope Benedict XVI called on nations to end the production, stockpiling and use of land mines and cluster bombs. He also expressed his support for programs and measures that "guarantee the necessary assistance to victims of such devastating weapons." He noted that 10 years had passed since the Ottawa Mine Ban Treaty - which bans the use, production, stockpiling and transfer of anti-personnel mines - came into effect. "I wish to encourage countries that still haven't done so to sign without delay these important instruments of international humanitarian law which the Vatican has always supported," he said. The Vatican was one of 94 states that signed the Convention on Cluster Munitions in Dublin, Ireland, in 2008. The Vatican is also party to the Mine Ban Treaty, which it signed in 1997 and ratified soon after. Thirty-nine countries, including the United States, China, Russia, Iran, and Israel, have not ratified the anti-personnel mine ban treaty, according to the International Campaign to Ban Landmines. See www.catholicnews.com, Apr 6, 2009.
